MagnumOpusCon 5

I got stuck doing this program book, so you better like it. I have better things to do than trying to be creative; like playing on the computer, chasing women at the university, eating or sleeping. Ahhhhh, if I don't do this thing, you people will probably be bouncing off the walls at this convention. Well, here is my introduction.

This is a great show, behave and have a good time.

Whew! That took alot out of me, I think I'll go for a beer.

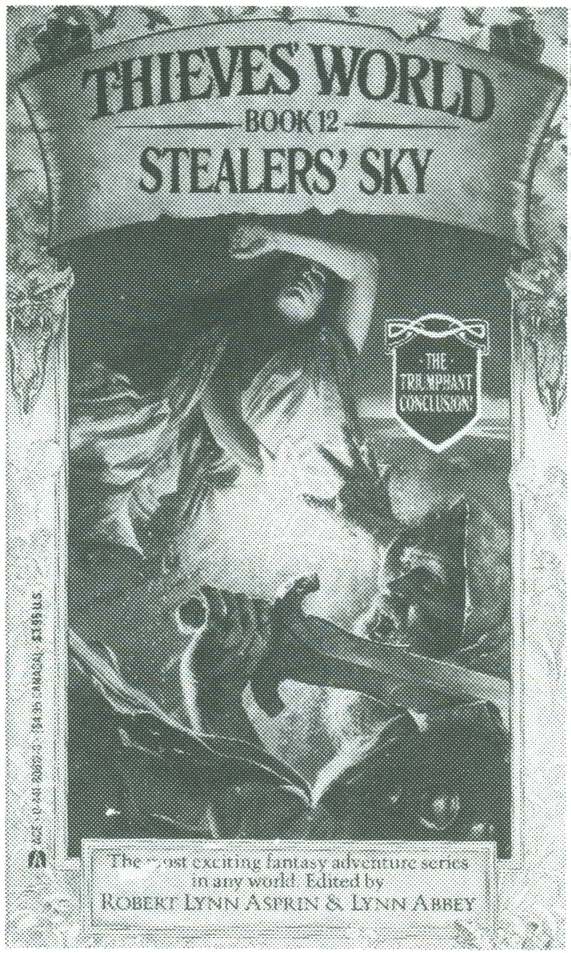
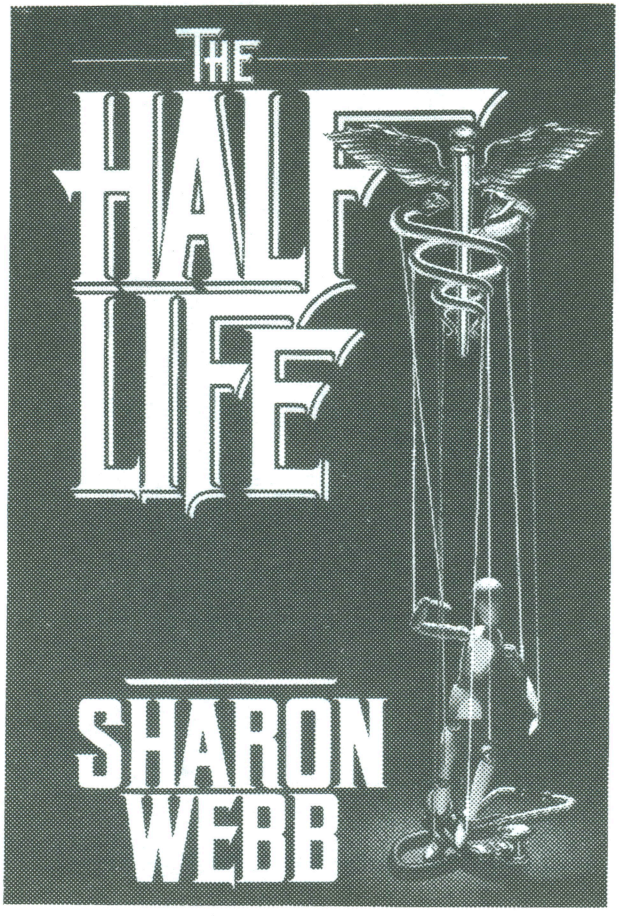
The Place To Be

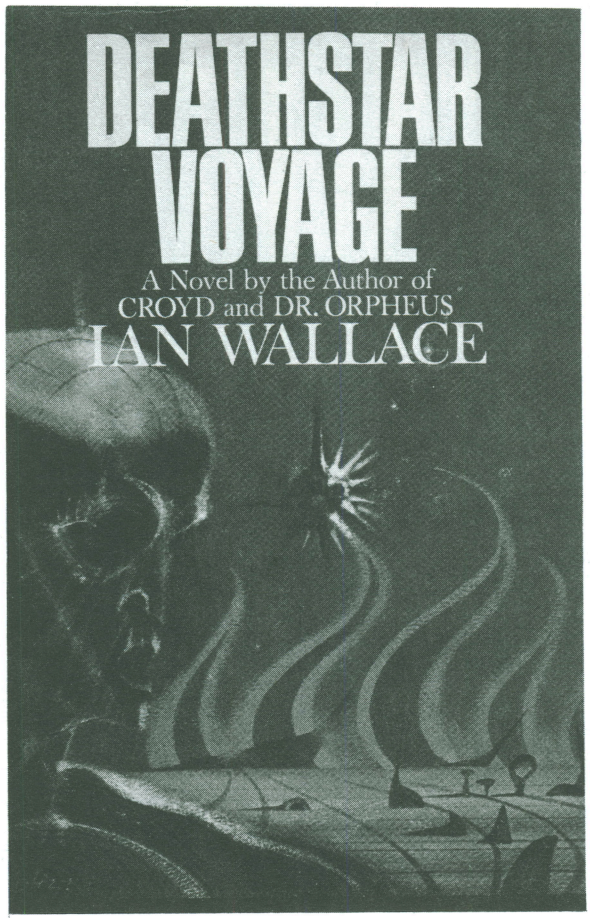


THIEVES' WORLD
BOOK 12
STEALERS' SKY
THE TRIUMPHANT CONCLUSION
The most exciting fantasy adventure series in any world. Edited by
ROBERT LYNN ASPRIN & LYNN ABBEY

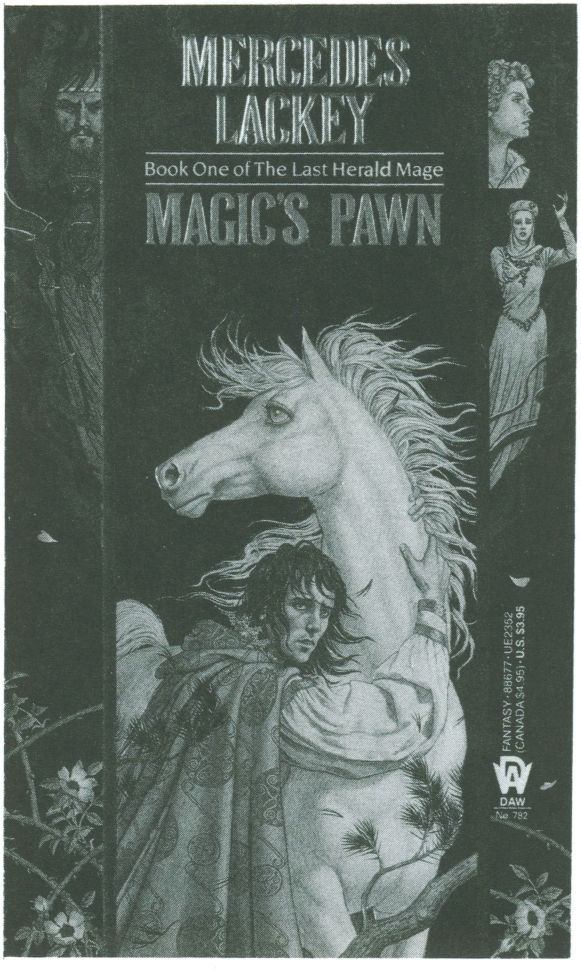
LYNN ABBEY/ROBERT ASPRIN are the celebrated co-editors of the world famous Thieves World series of anthologies. Both have published novels of their own including Asprin's Myth Adventures series and Abbey's Unicorn & Dragon series.



SHARON WEBB is a registered nurse and the well-known author of the Earth Song Triad and the Adventure of Terra Tarkington as well as thrillers Pestis 18 and Halflife.

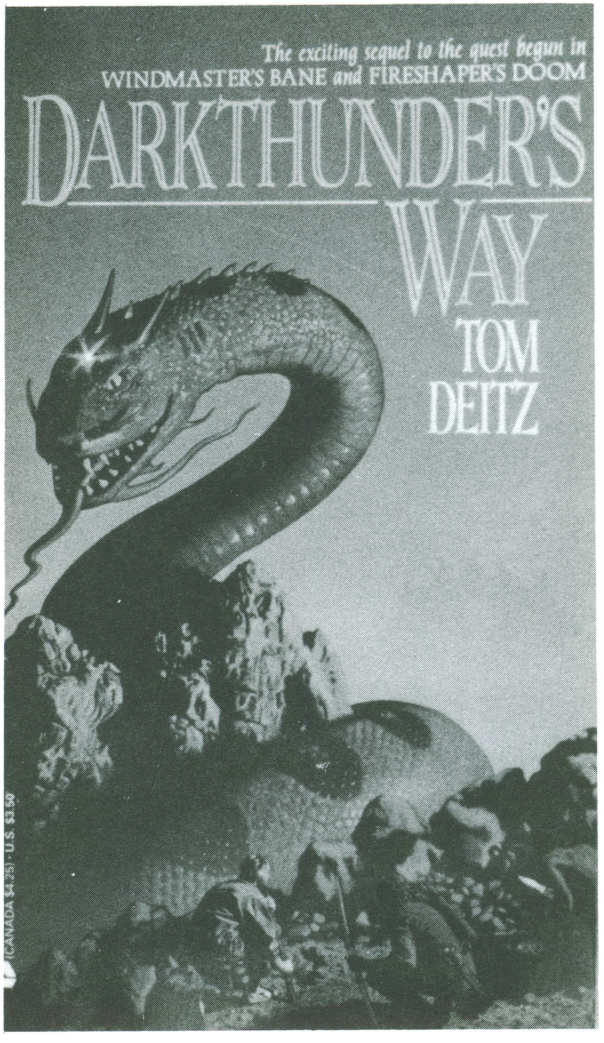


IAN WALLACE has published 14 novels spanning nearly 4 decades beginning in 1952, with his latest, Megalomania, in 1989. Along with writing he has earned a living as a teacher, editor/publisher and clinical psychologist.



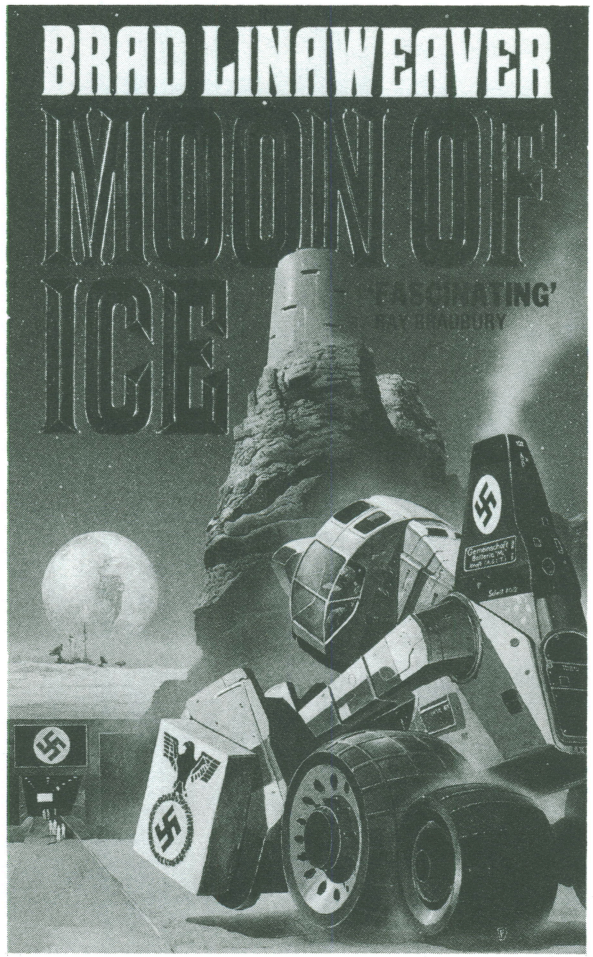
MERCEDES LACKEY has currently in print 3 series, Heralds of Valdemar, Vows & Honor, and The Last Herald Mage along with a horror novel based on Aztex mythology. She is also well known for her many short stories and music.

BRAD STRICKLAND has been writing science fiction, fantasy and horror since 1982 with 5 novels currently in print and 2 more on the way. His short stories in all genres have been widely published including one in 1989 Year's Best Horror.



The exciting sequel to the quest begun in
WINDMASTER'S BANE and FIRESHAPER'S DOOM
DARKTHUNDER'S WAY
TOM DEITZ
(CANADA $4.25) · U.S. $3.50

TOM DEITZ has 4 novels currently in print including his David Sullivan contemporary Celtic series. His other intersts include castle architecture, heraldry, the Middle Ages, the SCA, cars, and he is a talented map-maker.



BRAD LINAWEAVER is the author of numerous short stories and has won the Prometheus Award for Moon of Ice, which was also a Nebula finalist. He has been a journalist, political writer, and now reviews science fiction for the Atlanta Journal-Constitution.

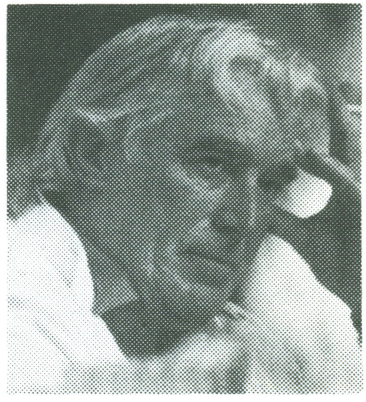
Mark Rolston

This unique actor was already interested in his future career at 8 years of age. Though asked to turn professional when he was 9, his father refused, so Mark then trained in classical ballet until he was 12. Peer pressure resulted in his turning to basketball and "jockdom" through college. Acting, though, remained his first love and a notice on the college bulletin board led to his appalying and being accepted to study at the London Drama Center. To pay the rent, he did voice-overs for radio and TV commericals and cartons. By the age of 22, he was back in the U.S. touring as Shakespeare's "Richard I." He had small roles in American TV movies and then was hired by the BBC in a variety of roles. While in London, he was cast in Revolution, an Al Pacino film on which he "worked for over 12 weeks and was seen on the screen for 12 minutes." His biggest break was being cast as Drake in Aliens. He then landed the starring role in Survival Quest, portraying a soldier of fortune. TV roles include stints on Wise Guy, Sledge Hammer, Tour of Duty and the recent Perry Mason: The Case of the Lethal Lesson. His character in the factually based movie, Weeds, is Dave Rosman, a repeat offender imprisoned for indecent exposure. It was filmed in a maximum security prison in Joliet, Illinois. Mark is also in Lethal Weapon II, Baby Bump (a comedy opening the end of March), Robo Cop II and Prancer, which Mark describes as a Christmas film destined to become a classic.

Terry Nation



Award winning author Terry Nation has written literally hundreds of hours of television. His credits include 'The Saint', 'The Avengers', 'The Baron', 'The Persuaders' and many more. His creation of the Daleks for Dr. Who ensured the success of the series and brought it to the point where it can claim to be 'The longest running science-fiction show in the history of television.' Nation now lives in California where he works in television development. The long running 'MacGyver' is amongst his credits. Playing currently in many American cities is a show created and written by Nation and one which has achieved cult status, "Blake's Seven". For new fans of the show he is engaged in writing a "Simple Guide to Blake's Seven'. The 'Guide' will examine the Doppleganger motif so evident in the series and provide proof that the conscious evolution of of the Oedipal trajectory has a spurious validity that ignores the self-reflexive mataphor. Idiosyncraticaly, the Bressonian spiritual trancendence and the ideological counterpoint of the proairetic and hermeneutic modulation are transmuted into infrastructural but embryonic schemata. The sentimental, sanitized, desexualized version of bourgeois ideology ignores the dialectic dichotomies thus explicated. Clearly the representation of linear resonance evades overt charismatic and grandiloquent paradox. The monumentalization of elegiac reactionism results in concatenated dichotomies. For many, this simple explanation is enough, but for those seeking a more non-diegetic totality, it is obvious that the elliptical evolution has been facilitated by the intuitive resolution of the linear counterpoint.

When Terry completes writing the "Simple Guide" he intends to start work on a deeper analysis of the series.

Yvonne Craig

Whether "It Happened at the World's Fair", in the "Land of the Giants", or with "My Favorite Martian", you can bet this incredible lady was there. Yes, we're all "green" with envy when we are reminded of the seemingly countless number of television and big screen appearances of YVONNE CRAIG.

You may not have recognized her as the green "goddess" who wooed Captain Kirk in one of the early season episodes of Star Trek, but all of us remember her as "Batgirl". With today's reruns of the "dynamic Duo", we can still see Ms. Craig fighting crime, with her batbelt hugging the hips of the sleek purple oufit encrested with a golden bat emblem.

In yet another costume, Ms. Craig has been seen on stages from Los Angeles to New York as a ballerina. Her career began in 1951, at age 14, when she was discovered by dance legend Alexandria Danilova during a dance recital at Edith James School in Dallas. By age 16 she was touring with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo. It as during this three year stint that she was approached by Hollywood producers to begin her acting career. After turning down several, she finally accepted an offer and made her film debut in a western, The Young Land.

Though her travels today may not lead her to the silver screen as often as we'd like, we can be proud of the places she has been. She was Great in "Mars Needs Women" and was among the "Seven Women From Hell". From there she has traveled from "The Wild, Wild West" to the "...Bottom of the Sea." It seems as though she has been everywhere on earth and many places beyond! But one fact remains... as long as there is "Batman", "Batgirl" (as we know her) will be somewhere in the "wings".

George Takei

Having been the first Asian-American actor to receive a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame is only one of George Takei's many acting accomplishments. For 25 years, he has shaped the character of Star Trek's Sulu into an internationally recognizable star. Following Gene Roddenberry's dream has led George Takei through the television series and five succssful films. Yet this diverse performer enjoys stretching his acting abilities, including his prformances in such shows as The Twilight Zone, Murder She Wrote, Magnum P.I., Miami Vice and many more.

A devoted health enthusiast and an alumnus of UCLA, George finds the time to run daily and also gives his attention to areas in the political arena. " Whereas Sulu has a very technical mind I am more of the humanist artist."

Having stated that his part in the Star Trek tradition has opened more doors than closed for him, he has also related that "as long as there is Star Trek, I"ll be there."

The Tri-Star motion picture 'Return From the River Kwai' features George along with Christopher Penn, Denholm Elliott , and Timothy Bottoms. Although the picture has been shown in many countries, unfortunately we must still wait for its release here.

Places To Meet

GREGORY NICOLL is a very diversified person. He writes horror, he works on movies, he works on special effects and much more. This guy really gets into his stuff. He will be talking to you on panels and maybe sharing the light with Bill Johnson on special effects and makeup. A must see.

RANDY FENNEL, now this guy is ugly. Golly is he ugly. He has hair all over his face. All you can see is his two beady eyes. He's also a redneck from south Georgia. We're constantly arguing about Artificial Intellegence (I think it's a virus that infected his brain), machines being able to think. He says that they will be able to, and I say never. Oh yes, Randy works as a computer consultant for Boeing and is working for NASA on the space station. Before I forget to tell you, Randy was my roomate in college and is my best friend.

ELAINE HINMAN came to MOC-2 and did a talk on Robotics. That was the first time I met her. Since then we have talked at many conventions and she is really a nice person and fan of SF. The last time we talked I finally found out that she is becoming an astronaut. Golly, (not the words I usually say) this really good looking girl that I know is becoming an astronaut. So I asked her to come to MOC and tell all the SF fan about it. Another oh yes, she's also a Klingon.

A. A. GONZALEZ did a workshop on drawing the human form with charcoal and it was a huge success. Well he didn't tell me he was coming to do it again until the last minute. Therefore I didn't advertise it. But he will be doing it again. So all you artist, be there.

BILL "Splat" JOHNSON grossed out everyone last year with his F/X and makeup panel. This year he is going to tell you all about it. A fast growing field in the movie bussiness.

CHARLOTTE PROCTER doesn't need any promotion cause I know she will be bogged down with tons of readings. Just wanted to say thanks for joining MOC and for entertaining fandom.

The MIGHTY RASSILON ART PLAYERS are going to entertain your socks off with completely new material. They do it every year, this year should be no different.

People To Do

CHRISTOPHER STEWART and his computer art are unbelieveable. You have to see this to believe it. A must see from the word go.

WIZARDWORKS will be all around the hotel entertaining in more ways than I know. They have a free run of the show and will be performing at will. So, whenever you see a crowd of people, more than likely Wizardworks will be there.

STEVE JACKSON - If you don't know who this is, either you're not a gamer or you've been in the sticks too long.

MICHAEL WEAVER should be listed under Artist but he's been helping out MOC since MOC-2 with our miniature contests and miniature workshops. After this year look for him under Artist guest.

JACKIE LEEPER has worked with Mayfair Games since 1982. She has been an editor on several role-playing modules and boardgames for Mayfair. Jackie has also run game demos and participated in gaming panels at several other conventions throughout the country; this is her third MOC. In addition to running some of Mayfair's games in the game room this weekend (look for the sign-up sheets), Jackie will conduct some international folk dance workshops.

TIME WARP ASSOCIATION--the Rocky Horror people out of Atlanta are going to be doing all different kinds of things to the wee hours of the morning.

NORTHSTAR PUBLISHING has out some awesome comics that are taking the nation by storm. Well DAN MADSEN, the publisher or DAVID QUINN the writer and TIM VIGIL the artist are going to be here to tell you all about their comics. If you don't know these people, you best do.

STEVE HAYNIE our perennial favorite is lettering tons of comics throughout the industry. Steve has a good honest opinion about comics. So when he speaks, listen to what he has to say.

Slave Auction

Sat 4:00 Atrium

We will sell anybody. We don't care. Just remember he rules. The slave doesn't have to do anything illegal, immoral or anything that he/she consisider demeaning. This is just a fun event to which all proceeds go back to MOC fandom in the form of scholarships. So get the plastic and the check books ready. Oh yes, we need slaves. Be sure to sign up at the information table. We thank you for your support hose.

College Scholarships

Dr. Brad Strickland, author and educator, graciously accepted the task of working on the MOC scholarship fund. All year long he accepted letters from you, fandom and MOC attendees, and worked together four scholarships of $250 each. It isn't much, but it is a start. We hope that in the future we can do more. Thank you MOC-4 slaves for making it possible.

On Saturday afternoon, just before the MOC-5 Slave Auction, Brad Strickland will be saying a few words and awarding this year's scholarships. Brad will also be answering any questions anyone may have for next year. Make a point of being there.

Silly Cinema Contest

This is a pre-taped event. Turn your tapes in at the information tables and be sure to mark your tapes with all the information needed. If you don't know, ask at the info tables.

The tapes will be shown over the television MOC channel as listed in the program book schedule. Also be sure to pick up your tape before you leave the convention.

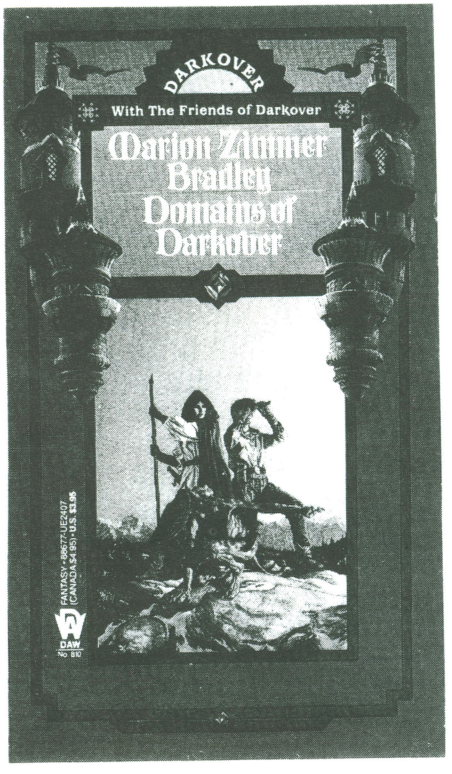
DOMAINS OF DARKOVER

Marion Zimmer Bradley



◆ DAW Fantasy /Original
0-88677-407-1/$3.95 ($4.95 in Canada)

- Over 4 million DAW copies of Marion Zimmer Bradley's Darkover books in print!

In DOMAINS OF DARKOVER, Marion Zimmer Bradley, whose best-selling Darkover series began more than three decades ago, continues to explore the planet, its people, and history, ably assisted by many of the talented writers in The Friends of Darkover. From the founding of Neskaya Tower... to the origins of the Free Amazons... to a Terran innocently enmeshed in a Darkovan conspiracy of betrayal and murder, here are exciting new excursions into the six ages of Darkover.

Join Marion Zimmer Bradley and The Friends of Darkover as they reveal previously unknown legends and lore about one of the most fascinating worlds in the annals of science fiction and fantasy. Let the world of the Bloody Sun work its magic on you as an Aldaran assassin plies her trade...while Leonie Hastur is drawn along the trail of a matrix of sword and fire... and even the laran-gifted are caught up in a maelstrom of madness when the Ghost Wind begins to blow!
